The Honorable Charles Snyder
Town of Aurora Supervisor
575 Oakwood Avenue
East Aurora, New York 14052

Dear Supervisor Snyder:

I am excited to announce that Lothlorien Therapeutic Riding Center, located at 15 Reiter Road in the Town of Aurora, is now part of sasi.

You may be aware that sasi has operated the High Hurdles riding program in Sardinia for many years. By joining the sasi community as an affiliate, Lothlorien has cemented a collaborative relationship that began 18 months ago. This transition allows us to share resources, pursue growth and strengthen both locations. Both Lothlorien and High Hurdles will keep their respective names, instructors, properties and missions.

The Lothlorien Board of Directors has stepped aside and entrusted the organization's ongoing work to sasi. In the words of outgoing Lothlorien Board Chairperson Kathleen Miller, "We are confident that sasi has the knowledge, capacity and commitment to preserve Lothlorien's 42-year mission of providing therapeutic riding experiences for people with disabilities. We are grateful to sasi for stepping up to keep Lothlorien strong and active for another 42 years and beyond."

Based in Elma, sasi has five decades of experience in providing creative opportunities and supports to people with disabilities. With nearly 700 employees working at 50 locations throughout Erie, Cattaraugus and Wyoming Counties, sasi offers an array of programs and services for nearly 2,000 people each year. We intend to honor Lothlorien's rich legacy by continuing to provide a safe, accessible and supportive experience for every participant.

Shelby Dytschkowskyj, longtime director of High Hurdles, will oversee both programs in her new role as Director of Equine Assisted Services. To learn more about Lothlorien or High Hurdles, or to volunteer at either site, please contact Shelby at shelby.dytschkowskyj@sasinc.org or (716) 436-3935. You can learn more about Lothlorien at www.lothlorientrc.com.

Sincerely,

Jeff Paterson
President and Chief Executive Officer
